The Colony Police investigating suspicious incident

THE COLONY, Texas — The Colony Police Department is investigating a suspicious incident that occurred Tuesday, Nov. 11, at Peter's Colony Elementary School. The school is located at the intersection of Nash and John Yates drives.

At around 7:30 a.m. on Nov. 11, a 6-year-old female student, who had already crossed at the crosswalk and had made it onto school grounds, was reportedly approached by an unknown man, who tried to strike up a conversation with her. The student ignored the man, who at one point, asked if the student wanted him to give her a ride. The student reports that the man then got into his vehicle and drove away. At no point did the man try to physically take the student.

The student described the man as possibly middle-aged with a graying beard who got into a gray-colored SUV.

The Police Department is currently working with Peter's Colony Elementary and the incident is still under investigation. Anyone with information about the incident is urged to contact The Colony Police Department at 972-625-1887. Peter's Colony Elementary is sending home a letter to alert parents of the incident.
